Digital Video Systems Executive Team to Present at Roth Capital Partners Conference

PALO ALTO, CA –Feb. 5, 2004 -- Digital Video Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ:DVID), a global leader in DVD technologies, announced today that members of its management team are scheduled to speak at the 16th Annual Roth Capital Growth Stock Conference, slated for February 16-19, 2004 at the St. Regis Monarch Beach Resort and Spa in Dana Point, CA.

The presentation will be webcast live On February 19 at 1:30 p.m EST. You can Access the audio and PowerPoint presentation through the following link: <http://www.vcall.com/CEPage.asp?ID=85800>, which will also be archived for up to 12 months.

The prestigious yearly assembly provides a concentrated forum where institutional investors can meet executives of promising growth companies that have been selected by Roth Capital's research team. The conference will highlight approximately 225 companies from industry groups including Health Care, Consumer Products, Technology and Financial Services. This year, as a result of numerous requests, the conference has been extended to three working days to showcase not only companies from Roth Capital's research universe, but other promising growth companies as well.

The 2004 conference follows on the success of the 2003 conference, which showcased 161 companies to an audience of over 1,500.

DVS CEO Douglas T. Watson commented, "We are looking forward to updating the Roth Conference attendees on a very eventful 2003. The year since we last participated in the annual Roth Capital Conference has been marked by the launch of our subsidiary in India and the first shipments of components for rewriteable/recordable DVD players and automotive units, among other milestones. With an investment of over $5 million in R & D during 2003, I feel that we are positioning ourselves well to participate in the growing DVD market segments."
